

New name, same goal for everyone

Budget Billing is now Levelized Billing

As energy use typically increases during warmer months, having predictable bills can make it easier to manage your household budget. Levelized Billing is AES Indiana's updated billing option designed to help spread energy costs more evenly throughout the year.

Formerly known as Budget Billing, Levelized Billing uses an average of your past energy use to reduce large bill swings caused by seasonal weather changes. The goal remains the same: more consistent monthly bills.

No more bill surprises, just predictable payments:
